

Introducing Obihiro City's New CIR

Editor's foreword:

Personnel changes accompany the transition into a new fiscal year in Japan. In this issue of Obihiro Pioneer, we introduce Obihiro City's new Coordinator for International Relations (CIR), Ning Wen Yan.

OP: Ms. Ning, welcome to Obihiro! This may be your first time in Obihiro, but it is definitely not your first time in Japan. Please share with us your previous experiences in Japan and why you chose to work in Japan.

Ning: Thank you, OP. My name is Ning Wen Yan (宁文颜). The Chinese characters in my name represent knowledge (文) and color (颜) respectively. My parents gave me the name hoping that I will become a knowledgeable person who lives a life full of variety.

I graduated from a Chinese university in July 2014, studied in a Japanese language school in Tokyo for 15 months and then furthered my studies at the Joetsu University of Education. Upon graduation, I started working as Obihiro City's CIR.

OP: Sounds like you've spent a long time in Japan so far! As a Coordinator for International Relations (CIR), you will not only be able to learn more about Japan, but also be able to share more about your country. Speaking of which, we heard that you come from Liaoning Province in China, where Obihiro's friendship city, Chaoyang city is located. Do tell us more about your hometown.

Ning: My hometown is Shenyang City, located in Liaoning Province of northeastern China. Shenyang City is home to the Shenyang Palace Museum, one of China's 3 imperial palaces and is known for its delicious stewed food.

OP: That was really informative. Thank you for sharing. Now that you are starting a fresh chapter in life in Obihiro City, what things would you like to try out while living in Hokkaido?

Ning: I would love to continue skiing now that I live in Hokkaido.

Although I am from Northeastern China, where it gets relatively cold, I rarely skied. However, while living in Niigata, I started to try skiing again.

Since I come from a place with cold winters, I am looking forward to experiencing winter in Obihiro.

OP: That sounds great! One last question, what do you hope to achieve as Obihiro City's newly minted CIR?

Ning: I would like to put forward my best efforts and contribute to the improvement of the friendship-city relationship between China's Chaoyang City and Obihiro City. In addition, I hope to do my best in projects such as school visits.

We would like to thank Ms. Ning for the splendid interview. Best wishes for her new life in Hokkaido!
