Cherry Blossoms in Tokachi

十勝の桜

Happy Spring, pioneers! Hokkaido is notorious for its very sudden change in seasons from winter to spring. Spring is also pretty short, so summer is already around the corner! Spring in Japan is of course symbolized by sakura, the Japanese cherry blossom. It's a symbol of Japan recognized around the world and carries a deep meaning of ephemeralism (check out last year's April Obihiro Pioneer!). Spend the spring days under the cherry blossoms and enjoy the weather!

Tokachi Cherry Blossoms

If you look up cherry blossoms in Hokkaido, most search results will point you to Sapporo and South Hokkaido. The reason for this is that West Hokkaido is where the closest part to mainland Japan is (Hakodate) and was "developed" before the rest of East and North Hokkaido. The first shrines and temples were built in this area, and cherry blossoms were brought over to Hokkaido, since that species of cherry blossom does not exist natively in Hokkaido. Thus, those places have more of a cherry blossom presence even to this day. Over time, Hokkaido became what it is today and cherry blossoms were brought to many parts of Hokkaido. In Tokachi, the cherry blossoms are in full bloom in late April, just in time for Golden Week.

Here is a list of only a few places in Tokachi for you to enjoy the cherry blossoms. The Japanese name is provided for you to help you look it up online. Each place will have a different bloom period due to elevation and climate. Spend your holidays enjoying the beautiful cherry blossoms found in Tokachi

Word Play: Shiritori

言葉遊び:しりとり

Previously, we learned about the babibu language game that is played in Japan. This time, I will introduce what is probably the most well known Japanese language game: shiritori. You may have heard of or even played this game if you ever took a Japanese language class, or heard Japanese students playing with each other to kill time, make decisions, and so on! The base rules are simple, however, the finer rules change depending on the individual player's personal rules, so here I will introduce a number of custom rule options to help you come up with your ideal ruleset!

Base Rules

- 1) Players take turns saying a Japanese word. You must say a word that starts with the final Japanese sound that the pervious player's word ended with.
Example Chain: しりとり → りす → すがた → たこ → こども → もり shi-ri-to-ri      ri-su      su-ga-ta      ta-ko      ko-do-mo      mo-ri
- 2) If you say a word that ends with the ん n sound, you lose. (Ex. みかん mi-ka-n)
- 3) If you say a word that has already been said, you lose.
- 4) If you can't think of a word, you lose.

Specific Rule Ideas—Player Discretion

- 1) Only nouns vs. allowing verbs and adjectives

Many verbs end with る and adjectives with い, so tricky players may bombard the opponent with る verbs and い adjectives to make them run out of words quickly, so limiting the words to nouns is a fair option.

- 2) Words that end with a long sound a) have the last letter be the next starting sound, b) have the elongated sound ignored, or c) the next word must begin with the entire elongated sound

a)

れんしゅう	→	うさぎ
re-n-shu-u		u-sa-gi

b)

がくせい	→	せんせい
ga-ku-se-i		se-n-se-i

c)

ハッピー	→	ピーナツ
ha-p-pi-i		pi-i-na-tsu

- 3) Words that end with a palatalized sound (small ya yu yo) either a) use the last letter or b) use the entire sound

かいしゃ	→	やきとり
ka-i-shi+ya		ya-ki-ni-ku

b)

ポンチョ	→	チョイス
po-n-cho		cho-i-su

- 4) Words that end with voiced sounds a) can drop the voicing or b) must maintain the voicing

a)

パンダ	→	たまご
pa-n-da		ta-ma-go

b)

へんじ	→	じんこう
he-n-ji		ji-n-ko-u
